GOVERNOR BLEASE OF SOUTH CAROLINA APPROVES SPORT AT PALMETTO PARK.

Manifests Keen Interest During Recent Visit to Charleston Track and Commends Clean Manner in Which Sport Is Conducted.

Charleston, S. C., February 15.—No one in the vast throng that witnessed the races at Palmetto Park on Wednesday last took a keener interest than did Gov. Cole L. Blease, who was the guest of the association, along with Attorney-General Thomas Peebles, and other distinguished members of both branches of the South Carolina Legislature. The chief executive was escorted all over the course and made a minute inspection of the plant. He was visibly hapressed with the clean manner in which the sport was being conducted and the wholesome ar that prevailed. Some of the racing he witnessed from the stewards' stand, but later he met a nost of friends and held a levee from his private box in the grandstand. The racing folk were highly gratified by his presence, as well as that of the distinguished party of lawmakers. Governor Blease expressed his keen appreciation of the good sport and the only construction that can be placed on his kind remarks is that as long as racing is conducted in clean fashion at Palmetto Park no fear need be entertained that it will be nodested during the tenure of office of the present heambent of the governor's chair.

The governor's friendly attitude toward racing is in striking contrast to that of some of the antis here, who receatly billed a mass meeting at one of the leading halfs and brought a speaker from Jacksonville. Fig., not rail ugainst the alleged chairs, was pitful, not over every leaded that it, was pitful, not over every leaded that it, was pitful, not over revealed that it, was pitful, not over revealed that it, was pitful, not over every leaded that it, was pitful, not over leaders and extended that give heed to the horsemen's plea and extend the season twenty-fort days. The proposed extension would, of course, have to be approved by the Jockey Club.

Saturday, February 28, and is one of three remaining stakes to be decided, the Pine Forest Inn Stakes for two-year-olds and the George Washington Birthday Handicap being the others.

The Pine Forest Inn Stakes, which is at half a mile, will be run next Wednesday. It has a value of $1,200. The best field of two-year-olds seen in action during the meeting will contest it. It will be the first half-mile stake of the season for the better juveniles, the other having been run under selling conditions. This stake closed with forty-one nominations and the field bids fair to be large if the track is good, which it will be, barring further rain. This will be the only stake race of the week, due to the George Washington Birthday Handicap being scheduled for the following Monday. The program book for this week gives the stayers a better opportunity than in several weeks past and, as they have been given a good rest, the longer distances races should fill well. The two-year-olds will also be given several chances, mostly at half a mile. The managers will provide ladies' days this week on Tuesday and Friday. The women have been liberal with their patronage at Palmetto Park this season and as weather conditions were disagreeable last Friday it was deemed best to give them an extra day.

O. A. Bianchi, who has been racing here since the meeting opened, departed today for Lexington, where he will remain until the racing season opens on the blue grass circuit.

meeting opened, departed today for Lexington, where he will remain until the racing season opens on the blue grass circuit.

H. G. Bedwell did not win many purses during the past week, but he still has a commanding lead over the other owners in the matter of winning purses. The week was a good one for the owners of the snaller racing stables, as none of the leaders succeeded in adding much to their scores.

There is no possibility of jockey Johnny McTagart being displaced as leader of the jockeys during the meeting, as he continues to gain on the others every week.

Owners who have won $1,600 or more are: H. G. Bodwell, $13,330; J. O. Talbott, $9,182; Beverwyck Stable, $6,005; J. L. Holland, $5,810; R. F. Carman $5,190; A. Weber, $5,535; W. LOUIS LISSAK DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Cal., February 5.—Louis Lissak, intimate friend and associate of Thomas H. Williams, and steward of the New California Jockey Club in the days when racing flourished in this locality, died yesterday. He had been in ill health for a long time. That good race horse, Lissak, was named out of compliment to him, as was the Lissak Stakes, one of the important fixtures of racing at Oakland.

EXCELLENT RACING OF A TENNESSEE-BRED TWO-YEAR-OLD IN LAST YEAR'S CAMPAIGN

In the days when Chicago was a great racing center W. W. Darden & Co.'s two-year-old colt, Ivan the Terrible, caused something of a sensation by running three-quarters of z mile over the Worth track in the Color of the Color o

SOME FAMOUS GREY RACERS.

The recent victory of the grey fillie, Tagalie, in the Derby, and the brilliant form exhibited by The Tetrarch during the past season, have served to reinstate grey thoroughbreds in the estimation of owners and breeders alike. Mr. Raphael's mare, in spite of her runaway victory at Epsom last year, was not a racehorse of the highest standard; but the latest grey to earn distinction, the flying The Tetrarch, is believed by the best judges to be an equine gem of purest ray serene—a veritable champion. Time will show to what extent the grey son of Roi Herode deserves the praise with which his admirers have bespattered him; but it is certain that he is a good colt, and that he is likely to bring horses of his color more prominently into fashion and repute. bring horses of I fashion and repute.

Time was when good greys were numerous enough. The first animal of that color to take part in the Derby was Sir John Lade's Crop, a son of Turf, which started first favorite in 1781, the second year of the race. Crop was probably a good horse as horses were then, but he was beaten in the great Epsom event by O'Kelly's Young Eelipse, which started at 10 to 1. Lord Grosvenor's Carlo Kahn, also a grey, was second to O'Kelly's Sergeant in 1784, and another grey, Grantham by name, was the runner-up to Lord Clermont's Ainwell in 1785. Not until 1896 did another grey, however, obtain a place in the Derby. That was Heetor, a son of Highover, belonging to the Margravine of Anspach, which finished third to Lord Foley's Parls and Lord Egremont's Trafalgar.

Gustavus, the only grey to win the Derby prior to Tagalie's rather startling triumph, was a good horse, if contemporary accounts can be credited. Ridden by S. Day, Mr. Hunter's colt, a son of Election and Lady Gay, started first favorite at 2 to 1 and won by a length from the Duke of Grafton's Reginald, which had won the Two Thousand. As a two-year-old Gustavus had carried off the July Stakes, and his victory at Epsom was much expected. Indeed, he was unbeaten up to the St. Leger, for which he started favorite at 5 to 2. The fact, however, that he was beaten out of a place, Jack Spigot, Fortuna, Coronation and Sandbeck occupying the leading places at the finish, would seem to indi-cate that the grey was unable to stay over a dis-the leading places at the finish, would seem to indicate that the grey was unable to stay over a distance.

The Exquisite, a grey brother to Dandizetti, was second to his own stable companion. Frederick, in 1829, and Grey Momus was third to Amato and Ion in 1838. Thereafter greys gradually sank into disrepute, and Grey Friars, the property of Lord Zetland, when he ran in the Derby of 1886, was the first animal of that color to take part in the race for many years.

The iirst grey competitor for the Doncaster St. Leger was Mr. Garforth's Pacolet, which in 1783 finished second to Sir J. Lister Kaye's Phenomenon, there being only four starters for the great York-shire race that year. Of eight starters for the Leger, however, in 1794, four were greys, and one of them, Mr. Wentworth's Prior, was the nearest to the winner, Beningborough, past the post. A grey was third to Hambletonian the year following, and then, in 1798, came the first grey victory. The St. Leger winner that year, Sir T. Gascoigne's grey colt Symmetry, by Delpini—Violet, started second favorite at 4 to 1, and won easily from Barnaby, a son of Stride. In 1809 Mr. Peirse's Lizette, a grey daughter of the celebrated Hambletonian, was third to Ashton and Middlethorpe in the St. Leger, and Mr. Orde Powlett's The Marshal, by Comus, also a grey, occupied the same position behind Reveller in IS18. The Duke of Leeds' Professor, a grey son of Comus, was third to that amazing outsider, Theodore, in the St. Leger of 1822, and the last grey animal to finish in the leading trio was Mr. Bell's The Squire, third to Satirist and Coronation in 1841.

As regards the Oaks, the only grey winner of the Ladles' Race was Sectia, by Delpini, which wis trioteins in the leading trio was Mr. Votter of the callest Race was Sectia, by Odina of Mr. Wastell in in 1841.

As regards the Oaks, the only grey winner of the Ladies' Race was Scotia, by Delpini, which was victorious in the pink, black cap of Mr. Wastell in 1802. Ridden by the renowned Buckie, she started favorite at about 6 to 4, and won easily from Sir C. Bunbury's Julia and Sir T. Gascoigne's Tooce. Not until fourteen years later did another grey take

KING GEORGE'S FINE STEEPLECHASER.

What prospect is there of a royal victory in the and National this year? This is a question that being asked frequently just now, and it is a easure to be able to reply that Twelfth Lancer, which his majesty's hopes depend, appears to be specified of cities of the control of is being asked frequently just now, and it is a pleasure to be able to reply that Twelfth Lancer, on which his majesty's hopes depend, appears to be possessed of quite a good chance, should he survive the trials and troubles which usually beset an Aintree candidate. Formerly the property of Sir William Eden, Twelfth Lancer is the third name in which the son of Actor and Ohana has rejoiced, he having been known previously as Blue Hussar and Martin Harvey. In considering his prospects of victory at Liverpool, I need not go further back than his career as a six-year-old, when, after winning a small steeplechase at Sedgefield, in County Durham, he showed his aptitude as an Aintree horse by winning the Stanley Steeplechase, in which he overtook Dwarf H. after being remounted in consequence of unseating his rider, in time to win by a half length. A further victory—an easy one this time—awaited him in the Irwell Handicap at Manchester Easter Meeting, and his labors for that season ended at Hooton Park, where, however, with odds of 5 to 2 laid on him, he was only third of four to Simonoff and Lara.

Easter Meeting, and Instantors for that each of 5 to at Hooton Park, where, however, with odds of 5 to 2 laid on him, he was only third of four to Simono'l and Lara.

In the autumn of 1912 Twelfth Laneer was a competitor for the Park Handicap Steeplechase at Sandown and although he was again defeated he accounted for everything except Bedgrove, to which he had to concede eight pounds. He did not appear again until the following February, when he finished a creditable third to Circassian's Pride and Abbott's Choice for a three mile event at Hurst Park, while after showing up prominently for a long way, he rau sixth to Irish Mail for the valuable Lancashire Steeplechase at Manchester, Then, however, came another successful essay at Liverpool, and his victory over Abbott's Choice, Lord Rivers and others in the Champion Steeplechase last April was a most encouraging performance from the point of view of prospective Grand National honors, as the gelding appeared never to put a foot wrong and finally won encouraging performance from the point of view of prospective Grand National honors, as the gelding appeared never to put a foot wrong and finally won easily by a half dozen lengths. Only once since then has Twelfth Lancer appeared in public, this occurring shortly afterwards in the Criterion Handicap Steeplechase at Sandown Park, which he won by a couple of lengths from Engenist, Abbott's Choice and a useful field. On the latter occasion he was ridden by Ivor Anthony in place of his regular jockey, Hume, who is attached to the Royston stable, in which his majesty's horse is trained, and with whom Twelfth Lancer has always got on very well indeed. Under Mr. Percy Whitaker's skilful guidance the gelding will be given a thorough preparation, and as he has, as I have shown in the foregoing comments, twice demonstrated his ability to jump portions of the Liverpool country, it appears to be only a question of his staying the longer journey over which the race is decided, for him to make a very hold bid for victory on March 27. What a scene there will be should he win I can safely leave to the imagination of my readers and I sincerely hope that those present on the day will be afforded so agreeable an opportunity of giving vent to their expressions of loyalty.—"Augur" in London Sporting Life.

KENTUCKY'S PROMISING OUTLOOK.

The entries to the Lexington spring stakes plainly show that all the big racing stables intend to compete in this section of the country, despite the prospect of the grand racing which is to be staged in New York. In addition to the high-class stake officings put out by the Kentucky tracks, the nopurse-less-than-8600 catches the horseman's eye, and many who have no stake horses in their strings will be shooting at those 8600 purses. The increased entry list to the Lexington stakes clearly shows that Kentucky will again be the big spring and summer racing ground.

The Hot Springs meeting has fallen through. It is just as well, for it would be far better to wait a year or so and have things in good shape than to give a short meeting, have lots of trouble and maybe wind up in having the racing stopped by troops or state officials. From what can be learned, influential citizens are quietly at work in Arkansas and they may be able to get some modifications of the anti-betting bill, now in force in that state, within the next year or so.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

part in the race, that being Mr. Pryce's Meg Murdoch, which was unplaced behind General Goner's Landscape. In 1820, however, there was a good grey filly running. This was The Bride, the property of Lord Rous, which, though she was beaten in the Oaks wou by Caroline, was able subsequently to win several good races. The Duke of Richmond's Dantizetti, also a grey, was a really good performer. She ran second for the Oaks in 1823 and after winning several valuable stakes became a fashionable mairon at the stud.

There have, of course, been good greys not identified with the classic races. One such was Consul, a rare stayer, which in 1821, when the distance of the race was four miles, won the Doncaster Cupbeating good horses in easy fashion, Then there was Mr. Rogers' Sir Edward, which, if he failed to carry off the Chester Cup in the year that event was established, was nevertheless a distinguished grey performer. Chanticleer, perhaps the most famous grey of all, was a really grand horse, a son of Irish Birdeatcher and Whim. The way he defeated the great Van Tromp in the Doncaster Cupfort 1848 was a revelation, Odds of 7 to 4 were laid on that St. Leger winner, and Lord Eglinton and his friends scouted the idea of the Irish grey beating their champion. Chanticleer wen easily, however, to the wonderment of Van Tromp's jockey, Marlow, who, describing the race afterwards, said: "When I took first cut at 'un, I were a wee bit anxious like. When I had a second go to pass him, the grey shook me off after some tussle. At the distance I were riding all I knew how, and Chanticleer, that blessed grey, was going' easy beside me, laughin' up in my face.!"

Isaac, a gelding, was another famous grey. He flourished between the years 1835 and 1841, and won immerable races. He was a well-backed candidate for the newly-established Cesarewitch in 1840, for which he was handicapped to carry 119 pounds. Isaac ran well in that race, moveover, but he had then seen his best days, and Clarion and Bloomsbury were first and second.
